Part 1 - 1. Opening Your Account

TCU does not open accounts for Non-Residents or Non-Citizens.

You will need to become a member of Traditional Credit Union Limited before we can open an Account. To become a member, you will need to complete a membership application form and subscribe for a member share in the Credit Union.

We will not permit a person/signatory to operate on an account until his or her identity has been verified in accordance with procedures prescribed by the Anti-Money Laundering (AML) and Counter Terrorism Financing (CTF) Act 2006 and any other identification procedures we require.

The law requires us to verify your identity when you open an account or the identity of any person you appoint as a signatory to your account.

When you open an account with us, you will need to provide any information we reasonably request about you or any other person (such as a signatory or beneficiary).

These include:

- A State or Territory drivers licence or proof of age card
- An Australian current passport or one that has expired within the last 2 years

We also include identification by any two of the following people:

- A recognised Community Elder
- An elected Member of the Shire
- A Northern Land Council staff member

The following must be collected and verified:

- The customer's full name
- The customer's date of birth and
- The customer's residential address.

2. Joint Account

A joint account is an account held by two or more persons. The important legal consequences of holding a joint account are:

- The right of survivorship – when one joint holder dies, the surviving joint holders automatically take the deceased joint holder's interest in the account
- joint and several liability- if the account is overdrawn, each joint holder is individually liable for the full amount owing

You can operate a joint account on an 'either/or to sign' or 'an all to sign' method:

- 'all to sign' means all account holders must sign withdrawal forms, cheques, etc
- 'either/or to sign' means any one account member can sign withdrawal slips, cheques etc

Despite any instructions you may give us to the contrary we may insist that a joint account can only be operated on the signatories of all joint account holders if:

- One of the joint account holders requests us to do so, or
- We are notified by one of the joint account holders of any dispute between the joint account holders

3. Trust Account

You can open a trust account.

However we are not taken to be aware of the terms of the trust; and we do not have to verify that any transactions you carry out on the account are authorised by the trust.

You agree to indemnify us against any claim made upon us in relation to, or arising out of that trust.

Interest earned on an account is income for the account owner and may be subject to income tax.

When you apply for an account with us, we will ask whether you want to provide your Tax File Number or exemption. If you provide it, we will apply your TFN to each of your accounts that you have at that time.

You are not required to provide your TFN. If you chose not to provide your TFN, we are required by law to deduct withholding tax at the highest marginal rate of tax from any interest you earn.

For joint accounts, all parties will need to provide Tax File Numbers and/or exemptions, otherwise withholding tax applies to the whole of the interest earned on the joint account.

For business accounts, you need to provide your ABN.

You can appoint a person under a Power of Attorney to transact on your account. The original Power of Attorney document is required prior to granting access to an account/product by the "Attorney". You must tell us as soon as possible if you cancel or revoke the Power of Attorney.

You are responsible for all transactions your authorised person/persons carry out on your account/s.

You should ensure that any person you authorise to operate on your account/s is a person you trust fully.

We will not give you access to member chequing if your banking history with the Credit Union is not satisfactory, and you are under 18 years of age.

9.3 Corporate Cheques

If you require a cheque for payment, a corporate cheque can be prepared from your account. If a corporate cheque is lost or stolen, you can ask us to stop payment on it. You will need to complete a form of request, giving us evidence of the loss or theft of the cheque.

You will also have to give us an indemnity – the indemnity protects us if someone else claims that you wrongfully authorised us to stop the cheque.

We cannot stop payment on our corporate cheque if you used the cheque to buy goods or services that you are not happy with. You must seek compensation or a refund directly from the provider of the goods or services and contact a Government Consumer Agency if you need help.

You will usually sign a direct debit authority, which permits them to directly debit your nominated account with us.

We may decide not to process a direct debit if the available balance of your account is insufficient to cover the payment, when the debit is to be made. We do not have to inform you if a direct debit is not processed.

You should always check your bank statements or on-line account history to ensure that the merchant is debiting your account in accordance with your authority.

You can cancel a direct debit authority by contacting us and the company who you set the authority up with.

We will assist you to resolve complaints about any unauthorised payments debited to a scheme debit card account including where possible, assisting you to seek a chargeback.

10.1 Government Charges

If we incur any government tax, duty or other charge imposed by law in respect of the Account or its operation, you must pay us an amount equal to the charge calculated in accordance with the methods prescribed from time to time by the relevant legislation. You authorise us to debit any such amount to the account.

10.2 Interest Calculation

Credit interest and debit interest (if applicable) is calculated daily on the balance of your account at the end of each day using the following formula.

$$\frac{\text{Daily Closing Balance}}{365} \quad \times \quad \frac{\text{Interest Rate}}{100}$$

The daily interest rate is the annual rate divided by 365 days. To avoid being charged debit interest on any unplanned overdrawn account debt, you should always maintain a credit balance in your account.

Refer to our Interest, Fees and Charges brochure.

11. Statements

TCU will issue you a statement of your account every six months. Monthly statements can be provided upon request.

You should check your account statement as soon as you receive it and immediately notify us of any unauthorised transactions or errors.

Fees apply for copies of or archived statement requests; refer to our Interest, Fees and Charges brochure.

12. Overdrawn Account / Account Combination

If you have more than one account with us, we may apply a deposit balance in any account to any other deposit account in the same name. For example we may do this if one is in debit and one in credit.

We will not combine accounts if to do so would breach the Code of Operation for Centrelink Direct Credit Payments.

We will give you written notice promptly after exercising any right to combine your accounts.

13. Inactive / Dormant Accounts

Where a transaction has not been initiated for 12 months on an account, it will be classified as dormant and transferred to dormant status.

Prior to doing so, we will write to you at the address recorded on your account. If there is no reply within one (1) month, the account is closed and transferred to a dormant account. No interest will be paid on dormant accounts.

During the time that the account remains in dormant status we will charge a "monthly dormancy fee" to cover the costs of maintain the funds for you. Refer to our Interest, Fees and Charges brochure.

Dormant accounts can be re-instated by contacting TCU.

Any funds not claimed within a period of time as specified by the Banking Act, may be forwarded to ASIC. Once transferred to ASIC TCU no longer has any responsibility for the funds.

14. Closing Your Account

You may ask us to close your Account. You must repay any amounts owing in relation to your Account before we will close your Account. Any unused cheques, electronic cards, which operate the account, must be returned at this time. TCU will pay you the credit balance plus any credit interest accrued, less any accrued fees or debit interest applicable to the closing date. Unclear funds in your account will not be released until they are cleared. Your liability remains until all outstanding cheques are presented, and all transactions performed on cards linked to your account.

We can

- Close your TCU Account and Access Facility in our absolute discretion by giving you at least 14 days' notice and paying you the closing balance of your account or
- Cancel any access facility for security reasons if you breach these Conditions of Use.

15. Stopping a Joint Account

If we are made aware of any dispute on a joint Account, we may choose to require all Account holders to sign to authorise any operation on an account.

16. Service Disruption

A service disruption is where a service provided by TCU is temporarily unavailable or where equipment fails to operate in a normal or satisfactory manner. Once the service disruption has been resolved, any transactions performed on your account will be processed and back dated accordingly. ### 22.20 Cheque Definitions

22.20.1 Open or Uncrossed Cheques

A cheque is a negotiable instrument, that is, it can be passed from one person to another. A crossed cheque with the words 'not negotiable' written between the lines, protects the true owner in the case it is lost or stolen.

22.20.2 Account Payee Only Cheques

When you add the words 'account payee only' between the two lines you are saying that only the named person can collect the proceeds of the cheque. These words may give you better protection against theft or fraud.

22.20.3 'Or Bearer' Cheques

TCU cheque forms have the words 'or bearer' after the space where you write the name of the person to whom you are paying the cheque. Therefore the cheque is a 'bearer' cheque. If the words 'or bearer' appear at the end of the line on which you have written the payee's name and you leave the cheque uncrossed and without the words 'not negotiable' or 'account payee only on it', we will pay the proceeds to anyone who presents the cheque.
